COMPLAINT FOR DAMAGES
AND INJUNCTIVE RELIEF –
Violation of California Business &
Professions Code § 17529.5 and
Maryland Commercial Law Code §
14-3002

DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

1 Plaintiff Beyond Systems, Inc. ("BSI") brings this action seeking damages and
2 injunctive relief against Connexus Corp. (f/k/a Vendare Media and NetBlue, Inc.)
3 ("Connexus"), Hydra Media Group, Inc. ("Hydra"), MailCompanyX (d/b/a Internet
4 Endeavors, Inc.) ("MailCompanyX"), Sebastian Barale ("Barale"), and John Does 1-20 for 5 violation of California Business & Professions Code § 17529.5 and Maryland Commercial
6 Law Code § 14-3002, and alleges as follows:
7
8

9 1. BSI is a Maryland-based Internet Service Provider, or "ISP."

10 2. As an ISP, BSI receives and delivers thousands of e-mails each day to its 11 individual and business subscribers, as well as offering a variety of other services, including 12 the hosting of websites.
13

14 3. In addition to legitimate e-mail, BSI receives, each day, thousands of unwanted 15 and unsolicited commercial e-mails. Such unsolicited commercial e-mail is known by 16 various names, including "UCE" or "spam."
17

18 4. Spam is the Internet analog to junkmail and telemarketing, but sent postage due
19 or as if a collect call.
20

21 5. Congress, in the Controlling the Assault of Non-Solicited Pornography and 22 Marketing Act of 2003 (the "CAN-SPAM" Act), moved to regulate unsolicited commercial 23 e-mail. While Congress legalized spam, it demanded transparency and accountability: thus,
24 federal law and the laws of 34 States, prohibit spam that contains false or misleading
25 information.
26
27
28

1 6. In CAN-SPAM, Congress made comprehensive legislative findings on the
2 burdens posed by spam (15 U.S.C. § 7701(a)):

- 3 a. “The convenience and efficiency of electronic mail are threatened by the 4 extremely rapid growth in the volume of unsolicited commercial
5 electronic mail. Unsolicited commercial electronic mail is currently 6 estimated to account for over half of all electronic mail traffic, up from 7 an estimated 7 percent in 2001, and the volume continues to rise. Most 8 of these messages are fraudulent or deceptive in one or more respects.”
9
10 b. “The receipt of unsolicited commercial electronic mail may result in 11 costs to recipients who cannot refuse to accept such mail and who incur 12 costs for the storage of such mail, or for the time spent accessing,
13 reviewing, and discarding such mail, or for both.”
14
15 c. “The receipt of a large number of unwanted messages also decreases the 16 convenience of electronic mail and creates a risk that wanted electronic 17 mail messages, both commercial and noncommercial, will be lost,
18 overlooked, or discarded amidst the larger volume of unwanted
19 messages, thus reducing the reliability and usefulness of electronic mail
20 to the recipient.”
22 d. “The growth in unsolicited commercial electronic mail imposes
23 significant monetary costs on providers of Internet access services,
24
25
26
27
28

1 businesses, and educational and nonprofit institutions that carry and
2 receive such mail, as there is a finite volume of mail that such providers,
3 businesses, and institutions can handle without further investment in 4 infrastructure.”

5
6 e. “Many senders of unsolicited commercial electronic mail purposefully
7 disguise the source of such mail.”

8
9 f. “Many senders of unsolicited commercial electronic mail purposefully 10 include misleading information in the messages’ subject lines in order to 11 induce the recipients to view the messages.”
12

14 7. Likewise, the California Legislature in enacting that state’s anti-spam law,
15 California Business & Professions Code §§ 17529, et seq., found that (§ 17529(a)-(m)):

16 a. “Roughly 40 percent of all e-mail traffic in the United States is 17 comprised of unsolicited commercial e-mail advertisements (hereafter 18 spam) and industry experts predict that by the end of 2003 half of all e-19 mail traffic will be comprised of spam.”
20

22 b. “The increase in spam is not only an annoyance but is also an increasing
23 drain on corporate budgets and possibly a threat to the continued
24 usefulness of the most successful tool of the computer age.”
25

26 c. “Complaints from irate business and home-computer users regarding 27 spam have skyrocketed, and polls have reported that 74 percent of 28

1 respondents favor making mass spamming illegal and only 12 percent
2 are opposed, and that 80 percent of respondents consider spam very
3 annoying.”
4

5 d. “According to Ferris Research Inc., a San Francisco consulting group,
6 spam will cost United States organizations more than ten billion dollars
7 ($10,000,000,000) this year, including lost productivity and the 8 additional equipment, software, and manpower needed to combat the 9 problem. California is 12 percent of the United States population with 10 an emphasis on technology business, and it is therefore estimated that 11 spam costs California organizations well over 1.2 billion dollars
12 ($1,200,000,000).”
13
14
15

16 e. “Like junk faxes, spam imposes a cost on users, using up valuable
17 storage space in e-mail inboxes, as well as costly computer band width, 18 and on networks and the computer servers that power them, and 19 discourages people from using e-mail.”
20
21

22 f. “Spam filters have not proven effective.”
23

24 g. “Like traditional paper “junk” mail, spam can be annoying and waste 25 time, but it also causes many additional problems because it is easy and 26 inexpensive to create, but difficult and costly to eliminate.”
27
28

- 1 h. "The "cost shifting" from deceptive spammers to Internet business and e-
- 2 mail users has been likened to sending junk mail with postage due or
- 3 making telemarketing calls to someone's pay-per-minute cellular phone."
- 4
- 5 i. "Many spammers have become so adept at masking their tracks that they
- 6 are rarely found, and are so technologically sophisticated that they can
- 7 adjust their systems to counter special filters and other barriers against
- 8 spam and can even electronically commandeer unprotected computers,
- 9 turning them into spam-launching weapons of mass production."
- 10
- 11
- 12 j. "There is a need to regulate the advertisers who use spam, as well as the
- 13 actual spammers, because the actual spammers can be difficult to track
- 14 down due to some return addresses that show up on the display as
- 15 "unknown" and many others being obvious fakes and they are often
- 16 located offshore."
- 17
- 18
- 19 k. "The true beneficiaries of spam are the advertisers who benefit from the
- 20 marketing derived from the advertisements."
- 21
- 22 l. "In addition, spam is responsible for virus proliferation that can cause
- 23 tremendous damage both to individual computers and to business
- 24 systems."
- 25
- 26 m. "Because of the above problems, it is necessary that spam be
- 27 prohibited"
- 28

1 8. In 2002, the Maryland General Assembly enacted the Maryland Commercial
2 Electronic Mail Act ("MCEMA"), Maryland Commercial Law Code §§ 14-3001 et seq.
3 The Maryland Court of Appeals has recognized that this statute was passed "to curb the 4 dissemination of false or misleading information through unsolicited, commercial e-mail, as 5 a deceptive business practice." Beyond Sys., Inc. v. Realtime Gaming Holding Co., 388 Md.
6 1, 16 (2005). By the time MCEMA was enacted, 21 other states had already enacted laws to 7 curb the proliferation of spam. See id. In considering the harm to an ISP (Verizon) from 8 spam, the District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia noted: "Spam is the twenty first 9 century version of junkmail and over the last few years has quickly become one of the most
10 popular forms of advertising over the Internet, as well as one of the most bothersome."
11 Verizon Online Servs., Inc. v. Ralsky, 203 F.Supp.2d 601, 606 (E.D. Va. 2002).

12 9. In an April 2003 report entitled, False Claims in Spam, "the Federal Trade
13 Commission (FTC) found that 66 percent of all spam contains some kind of false,
14 fraudulent, or misleading information, either in the e-mail's routing information, its subject
15 line, or the body of its message." S. Rep. No. 108-102 ("CAN-SPAM Act of 2003"), at 2.
16 The FTC found that "one-third of all spam contains a fraudulent return e-mail address that is 17 included in the routing information (known as the 'header') of the e-mail message." Id. at 3.
18 In the Senate Report, Congress also found that falsified headers "not only trick ISP's
19 increasingly sophisticated filters," but "lure consumers into mistakenly opening messages
20 from what appears to be people they know." Id. In addition, Congress found that senders
21
22
23
24
25
26
27
28

1 use false or misleading subject lines to “trick the recipient into thinking that the e-mail
2 sender has a personal or business relationship with the recipient.” Id. at 4.

11 FACTS

12 23. BSI is an Internet Service Provider. As such, BSI is an “electronic mail service 13 provider” as defined in California Business & Professions Code § 17529.1(h). BSI is an 14 “interactive computer service” as defined in Maryland Commercial Law Code § 14-3001.
15 BSI provides and enables access to the Internet for multiple users.
16

17 24. BSI owns and operates interactive computer services that enable its customers
18 to, among other things, access the Internet, access BSI-hosted Internet services and 19 exchange e-mail. BSI owns and maintains computers and other equipment, including 20 specialized computers or “servers” that process e-mail messages and otherwise support its e-
21 mail services. BSI maintains the e-mail-related equipment in Silver Spring, Maryland.
22

23 25. On information and belief, Connexus was formed by the union of Vendare
24 Media and Netblue.
25
26
27
28

1 26. Connexus states on its website (<http://www.connexuscorp.com/about.html>) that
2 it “offer[s] a diversified, multi-channel approach to connect advertisers with their target
3 customers.” It states that it performs this function through a variety of “marketing
4 vehicles,” including through the use of “display, lead generation, co-registration, proprietary
5 consumer sites, search, and e-mail.”
6

7
8 27. On information and belief, MailCompanyX is not registered to do business in 9 California, but operates out of Santa Clarita.
10

11 28. On information and belief, Barale is President and/or CEO of MailCompanyX.
12 Barale operates out of Santa Clarita, California. He personally directed and participated in 13 the actions described herein that were undertaken by, or under the name of MailCompanyX,
14 and stood to receive commissions, profits, dividends and other remuneration via sales
15 resulting from the marketing via bulk e-mail.
16

18 29. Barale is liable for the actions of MailCompanyX, and personally liable as an
19 officer of MailCompanyX, a corporation doing business in California but not registered 20 with the state.
21

22 30. On information and belief, Defendants and/or their agents transmitted or 23 caused the transmission of commercial e-mail advertisements. Defendants and/or their 24 agents arrange with other companies to have commercial e-mail advertisements sent to e-
25 mail addresses both in California and other states.
26
27
28

1 31. On information and belief, Defendants and/or their agents advertise in, send,
2 direct, assist, encourage, conspire in, procure, initiate, participate in and/or facilitate the
3 sending of tens of thousands of e-mails at a time advertising various goods and services.
4

5 32. On information and belief, Defendants and/or their agents paid others based on 6 the number of people who "clicked-through" the links in those commercial e-mail
7 advertisements and thereby were directed to Defendants' or third-party advertiser's website
8 and/or numbers of people who make a purchase, participate in a "incentive" program or 9 otherwise become a customer.
10

11 33. On information and belief, Defendants and/or their agents tracked the results of 12 the transmissions and all related sales and services, in part so that the bulk e-mailer
13 responsible for the e-mail which lured the recipient to click through to the advertiser site
14 could be paid accordingly. This tracking generated records that identify the participants in 15 these activities, and the related times, dates, quantities and payment amounts.
16

18 34. Between February 15, 2005, and the present, BSI received over 200,000 e-
19 mails linked to Defendants and/or their agents to its mail servers in Maryland. (over 23,000
20 Connexus, over 26,000 Hydra and over 180,000 MailCompanyX e-mails). (Attached as 21 Exhibits 1, 2, 3, 5, 6 and 8 are true and correct sample copies of Defendants' e-mail received
22 by Plaintiff.)
23
24
25
26
27
28

1 35. Plaintiff alleges Defendants and/or their agents advertised in commercial e-
2 mail advertisements sent via intermediary and/or third party computers and networks that
3 were located in California to e-mail addresses both in California and other states.
4

5 36. Plaintiff alleges that Defendants and/or their agents initiated and sent
6 commercial e-mail advertisements from California to BSI in Maryland.
7

8 37. Plaintiff alleges the e-mails received by BSI contained or were accompanied by 9 falsified, misrepresented and/or forged header information.
10

11 38. Plaintiff alleges the e-mails received by BSI had subject lines designed to 12 mislead a recipient regarding the contents or subject matter of the message.
13

14 39. Plaintiff alleges it received commercial e-mail advertisements sent by
15 Defendants and/or their agents containing false, misrepresented and/or forged header
16 information. This includes, for example, that the e-mail arrived at the BSI servers bearing 17 false information concerning the identities of the computers sending the e-mails. When an 18 e-mail arrives, the transmitting computer sends a "HELO," which is a parameter typically 19 showing the computer's name and/or IP address so as to identify to the recipient computer
20 who is sending the e-mail and where it came from. In the case of these e-mails, the 21 identities of the sending computers given in the HELO did not match the IP addresses of the 22 sending computer. That is, the identities, provided by the Defendant and/or its agents, of 23 the computers delivering mail to Plaintiff's mail servers do not match the IP addresses of the 24 contacting computers. For example, in Exhibit 2, the sender used a computer at IP address
25
26
27
28

1 66.55.191.198, but that machine identified itself as “producttesterswanted.info”, which the
2 bulk e-mailer’s own DNS server confirmed resided at a completely different IP address.
3 This false identification was designed to mask the identity of the sender of the e-mails and 4 to make it more difficult, if not impossible, to find or contact the sender.
5

6 40. Plaintiff alleges it received commercial e-mail advertisements sent by
7 Defendants and/or their agents containing false, misrepresented and/or forged header
8 information because the e-mails contained one or more fictitious, false and/or misleading
9 names in the “From:” lines of the message headers. Defendants and/or their agents
10 attempted to mislead recipients by using different fictitious people’s names in the “From:”
11 lines of the message headers.
12

13 41. For example, on July 25, 2005, Defendants and/or their agents sent over 500
14 electronic messages purporting to be from 673 different people, with each message’s
15 “From:” line containing a unique full first and last name. The false names were designed by 16 Defendant and/or its agents to mislead the recipients of the messages and to bypass spam
17 filters. (See Exhibit 9.)
18

19 42. In another example, over the course of two days, June 30-July 1, 2005,
20 Defendants and/or their agents sent over 4,300 electronic messages falsely claiming to be
21 from the “Apple Store.” The false names were designed by Defendants and/or their agents
22 to mislead the recipients of the messages and to bypass spam filters. (See Exhibit 6)
23
24
25
26
27
28

1 43. Plaintiff alleges it received commercial e-mail advertisements sent by
2 Defendants and/or their agents containing false, misrepresented and/or forged header
3 information because the senders used many false domain names in the sender addresses. E-
4 mail sent with many domain names was designed by Defendants and/or their agents to 5 mislead the recipients of the messages, mask the identity of the true sender of the e-mail,
6 and to deceive recipients and spam filters into not blocking the messages. (See Exhibits 3, 7 6, and 8.)

10 44. The Federal Trade Commission in its December 2005 report to Congress,
11 identified sending e-mails with many domain names and IP addresses as a deceptive means
12 of avoiding ISPs' spam filters. See Effectiveness and Enforcement of the CAN-SPAM Act: A
13 Federal Trade Commission Report to Congress, at A-3 & n.74 (December 2005). By using 14 multiple domain names and IP addresses, Defendants were able to disguise the actual source
15 of the e-mail, and to trick ISPs by "spreading out" the total volume of e-mail, thus reducing 16 the volume sent from each domain name and IP address, and thus preventing spam filters
17 which react to large volumes of e-mail from a single source.

21 45. Plaintiff alleges it received commercial e-mail advertisements sent by
22 Defendants and/or their agents containing false, misrepresented and/or forged header
23 information because the e-mails included domain names which were registered to false,
24 non-existent entities, as well as entities using false addresses and/or false telephone
25 numbers. Over 500 illegal e-mails were sent by a single spammer under multiple domain
26
27
28

1 names with a penchant for registering hundreds of throw-away domain names, using fake
2 names, addresses and/or proxy services in the registration record (a.k.a. the "Whois data")
3 for the domain to conceal its identity. As an example, a few of this spammer's domains
4 were registered using the false name and address of "Ted Hoffmann" at 4336 Degnan Blvd
5 in Los Angeles, an address which in reality belongs to a restaurant called Euphoria 360
6 (formerly known as Augustine's Restaurant). Other domains by this spammer were 7 registered with the address of a day care center in Alabama, a Chiropractor's office in 8 Phoenix, a restaurant in Philadelphia, and an office on the "fourth floor" of what turns out to 9 be just a three story building in Miami. The U.S. Postal Service's website verifies the 10 fraudulent nature of the dozens of addresses from all over the U.S. that were used to register
11 this spammer's domains. For example, the domain name "turishusa.com" found in Exhibit 3
12 was registered to "RC" with a registration address of "381 NE 207st, Hallandale, FL 13 33181." Plaintiff alleges the name and address listed on Exhibit 4 is false. (Attached as 14 Exhibit 4 is a true and correct copy of the domain registration of turishusa.com at the time
15 period of its use.) Defendants and/or their agents included false domain names and/or 16 domain names associated with false contact information so as to mask the true identity of 17 the senders, and to prevent complaining parties from contacting them. (See also Exhibits 6, 18 7.)

19
20
21
22
23
24
25
26 46. Plaintiff alleges it received commercial e-mail advertisements sent by
27 Defendants and/or their agents containing a reply address that was not and/or could not be
28

1 functional because the return address was connected with an invalid domain name or non-
2 working account. For example, in Exhibit 6 on July 1, 2005,
3 “RECRUITINGPRODUCTTESTERS” was not accepting any e-mail communications. As 4 such, the headers contained false information, designed by Defendants and/or their agents to 5 mask the true identity of the senders, and to prevent complaining parties from contacting
6 them.
7

8
9 47. Plaintiff alleges it received commercial e-mail advertisements sent by
10 Defendants and/or their agents containing false, misrepresented and/or forged information
11 in the message body itself. An e-mail not only bears statement(s) “about the origin” in 12 terms of the origin’s location, but can also bear statement(s) “about the origin” in terms of 13 the origin’s relationship to the recipient. That is, these e-mails falsely claim to have been
14 generated and sent to the recipient because the recipient requested the e-mail. The e-mails
15 falsely indicate the recipient requested to receive the e-mail.
16
17

18
19 48. Plaintiff alleges it received commercial e-mail advertisements sent by
20 Defendants and/or their agents containing false, misrepresented and/or forged information
21 in the subject lines. This includes, for example, stating that the e-mail recipient had won a
22 “Free” Gift. The subject lines were designed by Defendants and/or their agents to deceive
23 or attempt to deceive the recipient, and were likely to mislead a recipient.

26 49. On information and belief, attempts to opt out of e-mail, for example
27 contacting Connexus directly with complaints and requests that they cease sending e-mail
28

1 are ineffective. Moreover, e-mail addresses which “opted out” or which were used in
2 complaint correspondence begin almost immediately to receive additional e-mails from 3 other spammers.
4

5 50. These e-mails have harmed and continue to harm BSI by interfering with BSI’s 6 business operations, requiring the application of time, money and technological resources to 7 handle the spam. Among the adverse affects to BSI that high spam loads have caused are 8 decreased server response and crashes, higher bandwidth utilization, forced upgrades of 9 expensive hardware and software, frustration of subscribers, and loss of staff time. To the 10 extent Defendants’ thousands of e-mails consume disk space, drain the processing power of 11 BSI’s computer equipment, and stress BSI’s network infrastructure, those resources are not 12 available to serve subscribers or perform other tasks. Spam is BSI’s subscribers’ number 13 one complaint.
14
15
16
17

18 FIRST CLAIM FOR VIOLATION OF

19 CALIFORNIA BUSINESS & PROFESSION CODE § 17529.5

20
21 51. Plaintiff hereby repeats and re-alleges paragraphs 1 through 50 set forth above
22 as if fully set forth herein.

23 52. Under California Business & Professions Code § 17529.5(a), it is “unlawful for 24 any person or entity to advertise in a commercial e-mail advertisement either sent from 25 California or sent to a California electronic mail address” where that e-mail advertisement 26 “contains or is accompanied by falsified, misrepresented, or forged header information,” or 27
28

1 “has a subject line that a person knows would be likely to mislead a recipient, acting
2 reasonably under the circumstances, about a material fact regarding the contents or subject
